CHANCE FOR PEACE FOR IRELAND

(By Associated Press)
London, July 9.—Premier Lloyd George will meet Eamon De Valera probably next week to discuss a basis for a formal conference on the Irish question, it was authoritatively stated here today. The Irish office stated De Valera had instructed his supporters to cease attacks on civilians and discontinue military steps.

De Valera's instructions prohibit the use of arms and any action that is likely to cause disturbance of peace. His instructions are effective from noon Monday. An optimistic air prevailed in Downing street today. The belief is voiced that there was reason to hope bloodshed in Ireland is nearing an end. Military patrols were withdrawn from Dublin streets last night, says a Central news dispatch. The morning newspapers here with the exception of the Post, apparently welcomed the truce. The Post declared the British were negotiating terms at the point of a loaded pistol.

Maid—No mum. Her friends always washed before they came to dinner.

Fred—Did you hear of the awful fright Frank got on his wedding day?

'Rah For Falmouth

Falmouth Outlook: "Falmouth with a population of 1,500, has the most up-to-date town of its size in the state in the way of municipal improvements. We have ten miles of streets in splendid repair; fifteen miles of concrete sidewalks; water and electric light plants valued at $75,000; sanitary sewerage system; bonds voted for modern school building; the best fire protection in the state of any city; all municipal property in splendid repair. We have all this and the bonded indebtedness is only $8,000. The tax rate is only $1.60 on the $100. We are not going to stop here, but we expect to make Falmouth one of the show places of towns of this size in the United States. We are going to show the world what can be done in a model little city, without overburdening the citizens with taxes. The slogan has been adopted to have a painless method of taxation and at the same time have all the advantages of the large city municipalities. This is not a splash of bull dust, but we are now over the crest of the hill to accomplish these things. In a short time we will have delegations from all over the country coming here to study our system of doing things in economical and business like way."

Folks Will Return A Visit They Like

Atlantic City, N. J., July 9.—Suit to collect $500 wages was filed today by Mrs. Carrie Barrett, who "mothered" Jack Dempsey while he was in training here for two months for his fight with Carpenter, against the champion and Jack Kearns his manager, in the Atlantic City District Court.

When folks go to a moving-picture house in response to announcement of the show, they're accepting an invitation.

An advertisement is an invitation. It invites its readers to accept the advertiser's commercial hospitality.

Every ad you publish is such an invitation to people to visit you.

You invite people to return. Friend Advertising's call on them. And they'll accept—if they like the way he made his visit, and the way he extended his invitation.

That's a part of the secret of newspaper advertising's success—it extends its invitation in a way that the public likes.

Folks are hospitable to advertising that enters their homes via their newspaper.

They read it—usually—when there's time to think it over.

Very often they read it when the family is assembled, so they can talk over the more important of the invitations they find.

It's a friendly, sociable sort of way of inviting folks to come in and do business with you. It's a friendly, sociable sort of response such advertising brings.—Ex.

TEST NEXT YEAR'S CAR UP BIG HILL

A. B. Garrettson, of Morris-town, Pa., and L. F. Schuer, of Baltimore, Md., have been in Madison county for several days testing out a next year's model of a well known and popular priced car. They made their headquarters at Boonesboro Bathing Beach and took in the surrounding country from there. Well, Look Who's Here

The Jessamine Journal, in a note of Hub Dawson's appearance in a base ball game at Nicholasville last week, says: Dawson went from the old Blue Grass cage to the Nationals and was a catcher of note. He also was a batter second to none, and in the big game was for several seasons kept as a pinch hitter. Dawson is 6 feet 7 inches tall and a striking contrast it was to see him catching behind Warren Feiber at bat, who is 5 feet 3 inches. Dawson made a hit with all the Nicholasville fans.

TWO PLAYGROUNDS FOR EAST END

Sue Douglas Community Club
Equips Places For Youngsters To Enjoy

The Sue Douglas Community Club of Richmond which was organized last winter is doing a splendid work through its various departments though the Club has been too modest to give any publicity to its work through the press.

In the early spring, under the direction of its president, Mrs. Ballard Luxon, and an efficient committee with Mrs. Dr. Smoot as chairman, a baby's room at the Pattie A. Clay was furnished, which, Miss Scott says, was sorely needed and is now a source of great joy and comfort to the Infirmary.

Later in the spring, the committee which had been instrumental in helping further the work of the Associated Charities, began plans for a second-hand sale. This was directed by Mrs. George Goodloe and her committee. The sale was held in East End, and through the splendid cooperation of all the members of the Club, as well as outside friends, the sale was a great success. The proceeds were given toward equipping two playgrounds for the children.

With the assistance of an efficient corps of helpers, Deaconess Emily Olmstead, as chairman of the Child Welfare and Recreational Committee, secured two lots as sites for the desired playgrounds. Mr. Bates Shackelford kindly allowed the Club the use of a vacant lot which adjoins the L. & N. freight depot for the summer months, thereby providing a splendid place for the white children of that section of the city. No other advertisement than the placing of the equipment on the playground was needed for the children who flocked there, even though the thermometer registered above ninety degrees.

The equipment for the colored playground when finished, will be placed on the new lot recently purchased by the colored people, and which is located just back of their school house.

The Community Club is working slowly, and necessarily on a small basis, but its work will live in the hearts of the citizens of Richmond, and will receive their hearty approval, because of the one for whom the Club is named; and because she, like the Master, went about doing good, while here on earth.
